NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

High Point, N. C., Oct. 3.—W. E. Holton has accepted a position with the White Furniture Company, Mebane, N. C., and will leave for his post of duty on the 11:58 train tomorrow morning.

The Ba-low m'ntrels have arrived and are parading the streets as I write this.

Rev. W. R. Lowdermilk went to Greensboro this morning.

M. J. Wrenn has given the contract for a large wooden structure on the vacant lot in the rear of Sapp's racket store, adjoining the stables of D. B. Bodenhamer. Part of the framing is already in place. We learn that Mr. Bodenhamer will utilize the building when completed; but Ab Holton says that "Bud" is fixing up a zoological garden! We will wait and see.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Lee, of Fairview, were in the city yesterday afternoon.

Five shares of stock in the Commercial National Bank belonging to Mrs. Mildred English, of Trinity, were sold in front of the bank yesterday at noon. They were bid off by Lawyer W. P. Ragan, who was the auctioneer, for $325.00, or five dollars above par on each share.

John Seebert is quite indisposed at his home on East Washington street.

Rev. Joseph Potts came up from Greensboro last night.

Miss McCrary, of Lexington, who has been visiting the Misses Hagan at Archdale, passed through last night returning home.

Mrs. O. E. Wilson spent yesterday in Greensboro.

Francis P. Pickett went to Greensboro this morning.

R. P. Ellis, Frank Dunbar, Taylor Berry and R. B. White went to Winston this morning.

There was a fellow at the depot last night that "didn't care which way the wind blew," as far as he was concerned. He had a quart bottle in his pocket and about all he could hold of the inside of his liquor paunch. He enjoyed himself till time.

A two-story house is in course of construction in the eastern part of the city, more definitely located in Wrennville town. "Bud's" town is rapidly coming to the front.

Don't forget that tonight at 8 o'clock you will go to the opera house and see one of the best minstrels ever here—Barlow's.

Birgham School and Guilford College eleven will meet on the latter's grid iron next Saturday, October 7th at 2 o'clock. This will be an interesting game. Several from here will go. Admission 25 cents.

Bear in mind that on next Friday night at 8 o'clock the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church will give a musical and literary entertainment in the church. Admission 10 and 15 cts. Be present.

FROM AN EYE WITNESS.

C. N. Vanstory Tells of the Great Dewey Day in New York.

C. M. Vanstory returned yesterday from New York, where he has been for several days buying a stock of goods for his firm. He was there during the Dewey Day celebration, and he tells a most interesting story about it. The crowds of people were beyond anything ever seen in the history of the world.

Mr. Vanstory says that no other city on the globe could have handled the crowds as successfully as did New York. The whole line of parade, over eight miles long, was a perfect jam, a human sea that beggars description. Mr. Vanstory made up his mind to see Dewey and got in the push early, or rather, he was in front of the push. He was near the stand where Dewey was presented with the cup, and when the great Admiral arrived the surging crowds in the rear swept everything before it, and Mr. Vanstory being before it was landed against a post right at the stand where he got a splendid view of Dewey, his officers and the other noted personages who were present. He says that Dewey was standing near and Dewey went over to him as though forgetting everything a d everybody else and grabbed him by both hands in a most cordial greeting. He could not understand Dewey's response for the cheers.

He was also a witness to the naval parade and describes it as a most beautiful sight. Loud complaints were heard because Dewey was not given a place in that. The great mass of people, however, rebuked the jealousy of officials, and when Dewey was recognized in the street parade there was a tremendous roar of applause that shook Gotham. Dewey is a hero and the people know it.

A SERIOUS THREAT.

20,000 Men, Women and Children May March on Paris.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
Paris, October 3.—The leaders of the Crepus strikers announce that if they don't receive satisfaction today the whole population of twenty thousand men, women and children will march into the city and demand redress of the government. The threat is taken very seriously, as such an event would cause the government much embarrassment.

Kadok—The best headache cure and fever reducer, 10c—3 doses.

THE SITUATION UNCHANGED

Preparations for War Continue By Both Sides.

BRITISH SUBJECTS ADVISED.

By the Mining Commissioners to Leave the Transvaal as Early as Possible.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
Cape Town, Oct. 3.—Detachments of Orange Free State artillery are moving in the direction of Kimberly, almost on the border of the Free State. Residents of the Colony frontier and the towns of Kimberly and Mafeking are panic-stricken. It is believed the Free State forces will cross the frontier and seize Kimberly and attempt to hold the British reinforcements in check. If successful, the Boer raiders in the north can operate with a free hand. It is rumored that Premier Schreiner wants to resign. He is accused of sympathizing with the Boers.

INDIAN TROOPS ARRIVING.
Cape Town, Oct. 3.—Ind troops are arriving at Durban.

ADVISES BRITISHERS TO LEAVE.
Johannesburg, Oct. 3.—The mining commissioner has issued a proclamation, stating that in the event of war the mines could be worked if the miners were protected. This was issued September 29, but now the commissioner withdraws his proclamation advising that all British subjects leave the Transvaal as soon as possible.

NO CHANGE IN THE SITUATION.
London, Oct. 4.—While all dispatches from South Africa dwell upon the excitement there and the expected Boer attack, there is little change in the situation. Although the naming of the Boers in all directions increases the tension, and while constant military orders are being issued here, progress is slow and it must still be weeks before England will be in a position to take the aggressive. It is believed, however, that the British troops now at the front or near it will be sufficient to protect British territory.

The government is not showing any signs of haste in sending its ultimatum and the cabinet is giving the Transvaal every chance to accept the last British proposal.

YESTERDAY'S BRILLIANT EVENT.

D. Bendheim & Sons Celebrate Their Fall and Winter Opening.

It is only eighteen months since the firm of D. Bendheim & Sons started business in Greensboro. From the very first this store took its place in the front rank of popular shopping places, and day by day since that time it has held upon the buying masses has increased and strengthened. There is no secret to such success; it is due to a thorough knowledge of the wants of the public and the ability to supply those wants at right prices and in such connection it is eminently proper to say that no firm in Greensboro is better qualified to cater to the requirements of a discriminating public than Messrs. Bendheim & Sons. More than twenty years of successful merchandising has brought its own reward in the experience necessary to conducting a business of such proportions. Their store was a busy scene yesterday as well as today. Large crowds surged in and out and everybody seemed delighted with their display of new goods. Very many grasped the opportunity of securing the choice of the season's productions and bought liberally.

The Telegram wishes for this firm, that their future may be as bright and continue to grow in prosperity as rapidly as their short past career has been in our midst. Their opening sale will continue during the entire week.

New arrivals in desirable merchandise are being added daily to their large stock.

FEDERAL COURT.

Opened in County Court House at Ten O'clock Today.

Judge H. G. Ewart arrived last night and opened court promptly at ten o'clock this morning. The grand jury was empaneled and Mr. J. W. Hardin, of Graham, chosen foreman. Judge Ewart's charge was a comprehensive one and was listened to attentively. Most of the morning session was taken up in getting ready for business and the trial of cases was not taken up until this afternoon.

The docket is a full one, though most of cases are of minor importance. There are a number of visiting lawyers in attendance.

Jamestown Coming.

The Telegram has it from reliable authority that a cotton factory will soon be organized at Jamestown. Its projectors are well-known people and it will undoubtedly be put through to a finish and a success. Let the good work go on, and let the establishment of such enterprises be encouraged everywhere.

Lawyer Butler's Opinion.

Washington, 2-Senator Butler is here in attendance upon the Dewey reception. In an interview he ranges himself with Senator Pritchard in opposition to the adoption of the franchise amendment. Although a lawyer but a few days, he declares that the grandfather clause of the proposed amendment is unconstitutional, thus placing himself against the best legal talent in the state and in the United States.

COLORS BOY KILLED

At Chapel Hill—First Football Game of the University Saturday.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 3.—John Whitted, a colored boy about 11 years of age, was killed just outside the village yesterday afternoon. He was riding a harnessed mule when the animal became frightened near Pickett's Hotel and bounded away. The boy soon lost his balance and fell, but his foot was caught in a trace and he was dragged at the heels of the mule for half a mile. His neck was broken and his body frightfully bruised by kicks which he received constantly during his fatal fall.

The University Young Men's Christian Association last Friday night gave its annual reception to the new students. The event was celebrated in Commons Hall and was attended by nearly all the freshmen, a number of ladies of the village and several members of the faculty. Short speeches—witty, weighty and welcoming—were made by Mr. W. S. Bernard, of the senior class; Dr. Thos. Hume, Dr. Kump P. Battle, Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, President Alderman and others, during which time the audience was kept in a roar of laughter. Cream and cake were served as a grand finale.

The football team will play its first match game for the season next Saturday, the contest being with Oak Ridge on the University gridiron. The second game will be played with A. & M. College, of Raleigh, on Saturday, October 14th. This game will also be played on the University gridiron. Our games thus far schuld ad are as follows:

Oct. 21.—Davidson College at Charlotte.
Oct. 27.—University of Maryland at Chapel Hill.
Nov. 4.—U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.
Nov. 8.—Princeton at Princeton.
Nov. 11.—University of Maryland at Baltimore.
Nov. 13.—Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Lexington, Va.
Nov. 30.—University of Georgia at Atlanta.

WHITSETT ITEMS.

Entertainment Saturday Evening—Goodly Number Present.

Correspondence Telegram.
Whitsett, N. C., Oct. 3.—Mr. W. M. Rogge and his brother, Orson, received word Friday last that their father, who lives in Graham, was sick of typhoid fever and for them to come home at once. We trust he shall soon be restored to health.

Several scrippings from "Elon" favored us with their presence at the entertainment given Saturday evening last.

A. M. Garwood's jovial face was seen among the many visitors last evening.

The family of J. R. Neese, formerly of Burlington now of Whitsett, will leave tomorrow for Greensboro, at which place they will make their future home. Greensboro's gain, Whitsett's loss.

The program of the entertainment given Saturday evening is as follows: Anthony's Oration over Caesar, C. C. Barnhardt Hamlet's Soliloquy, H. B. Smith Advice of Polonius to his Son, J. B. Robertson "Betsey and I Are Out," H. V. Stewart Shylock Demands His Bond, W. S. Clapp

Quite a goodly number gathered to hear the long prepared feature and expressed themselves as being highly entertained.

Some of the pieces, however, elicited applause.

Master J. A. Smith, of Jones county, is the next name to be added to the register.

E. B. Clapp, of the Gate City, was down Sunday with his parents.

J. M. Sharpe, of Madison, came in this morning to finish the literary course and with the determination to carry the "sheep skin" next May—we would say orator's medal—but alas!

THE RIO TIDE.

Winston-Salem Notes—An Invalid Able to Walk.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.
Winston, Oct. 3.—A charming feature of the coming horse show and gala week will be the floral parade. Miss Mamie Gray has been chosen queen of the carnival and as such will lead the parade, with her knight and pages, followed by the first maid of honor, Miss Lucy Lybrook. The other maids are Misses Bertie Follin, Edna Maslen, Mary Ogburn, Daisy Hanes and Ellen Ebert. The maid of honor is Mrs. Powell Gilmer.

Mr. Willson, wife of Rev. W. C. Willson, pastor of Burkhead church, has been an invalid for twenty years, and unable to walk, is recovering, being reported as able to walk and will be carried to the paragonage from the Twin-City Hospital at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. Babson is her physician. It is a remarkable case.

Jennings Is Worse.

Ben Jennings, who was shot Friday night by Ben Wilkinson, is reported worse today by the doctors, and it is said he cannot live. In the meantime, the preliminary trial of Wilkinson has been postponed, awaiting definite information as to the wounded man's condition.

When a woman is in love she's a self-appointed detective.

NATIONAL DEWEY RECEPTION

The Principal Feature This Afternoon at Washington.

THE CROWD IS A LARGE ONE.

Hotels Are Filled—Governor Russell in Attendance, and Other Prominent Southern Men.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, Oct. 3.—The principal feature of the national Dewey reception occurs this afternoon in front of the capitol building. This will be the presentation of the sword voted by congress to the admiral in recognition of his valuable services to the government. For this occasion elaborate preparations have been made, and the audience which will witness the ceremony will be a distinguished one, among the spectators being President McKinley, Vice-President Hobart, the members of the cabinet, distinguished officials of the national and District governments, several of the state executives, with their staffs, and General Miles, Adjutant-General Corbin, Admiral Schley, Admiral Sampson and other prominent officers of the army and navy. For this occasion the president of the United States will set aside all former social precedents and will ride side by side with the admiral, who is a subordinate officer, the president occupying the left side of the carriage and the admiral, in whose honor the reception has been planned, taking the right side in the carriage. The president will not in any manner recognize the adjutant, knowing that they are intended solely for Admiral Dewey, who today will be the popular hero. The procession, as it proceeds down Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol, will be much like an inauguration procession, when the outgoing president escorts the incoming chief executive from his hotel to the senate chamber. President McKinley will ride over to the McLean residence and will meet Admiral Dewey there, instead of, according to the usual custom, the admiral meeting the president at the White House, which would be according to the best social etiquette.

The crowd in Washington is very large. The hotels are all filled, the bulk having arrived Sunday afternoon and Monday.

Among the governors in Washington are Governor Taylor of Virginia, Governor Atkinson of West Virginia, Governor Russell of North Carolina, Governor Sayer of Texas, Governor McMillen of Tennessee, Governor Smith of Vermont, Governor Roosevelt of New York, Governor Powers of Maine, Governor Wolcott of Massachusetts, Governor Lowmoe of Maryland, and others.

Today is being observed as a holiday. The executive departments of the government and all of the district offices and public schools, as well as the national banks, being closed. This is in accordance with the proclamation of President McKinley setting apart today as a legal holiday in the District of Columbia. The public schools were closed, most of the larger stores suspended business, and those merchants who remained open during the forenoon will close during the afternoon. All business will be practically suspended in honor of the homecoming of the third admiral of the United States Navy.

Among Southern visitors in Washington is Mr. H. C. Beatie, a well-known southern business man whose home is at Greenville, South Carolina. Mr. Beatie says that the great demand for raw cotton in the southern states, and particularly in South Carolina, for use by factories, has rendered it necessary to do a large import business.

Mr. Beatie says the state of South Carolina is generally prosperous, and he attributes this largely to the fact that the Southern Railway is doing all in its power to aid the south in its development. He pays a just tribute to the Southern Railway officials, saying they have labored persistently and effectively, in building up every section of the south through which their system traverses.

Ex-R. C. Meredith, of Virginia, is mentioned as a probable candidate for congress, to succeed Rixey. It is said that the only thing which will prevent his entering the race for congress, is the state of his health, which for the past few months has not been very good.

J. H. Clifton of Manassas, Virginia, is in the city. He says that a determined fight is being made against the renomination of Hon. John P. Ryan, for the Virginia house of delegates. He is rather inclined to think, however, that he will be sent back to the legislature, and will be re-elected speaker of the lower house.

Edward P. McKissick, of the Battery Park Hotel, Asheville, North Carolina, is in Washington, and he expects to remain over until after the Dewey reception. Mr. McKissick says that business in the vicinity of Asheville has been very good this season. It is reported that he is considering coming to Washington to live permanently.

Sunday last nearly all of the pulpits of this city were occupied by members of the Pan-Presbyterian council, which is now in session here. Among them who preached were a number from Virginia and North Carolina.

K. S. Foster and wife, of Wilmington, North Carolina, are at the Metropolitan Hotel for a few days. They will remain until after the Dewey reception.

IS THE ADMIRAL TO MARRY?

His Name Linked With That of a Wealthy Washington Widow.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Admiral Dewey, who was never known to capitate to anyone but a woman, is said now by the gossip to have surrendered to the charms of a widow who has made her home in Washington for years. Since his arrival in New York it has been currently rumored here that the admiral is engaged to Mrs. Hazen, the widow of General Hazen, a sister of John R. McLean, and daughter of Mrs. Washington McLean, at whose residence the admiral will stay while in Washington this week.

It was to be expected that the admiral's name would be linked with that of some lady, and the report now circulated in Washington possibly may have some foundation. The fact is regarded as a signpost that the admiral has refused all other invitations of private individuals to be their guest during his stay here and accepted Mrs. McLean's. It is said the admiral and Mrs. McLean are old friends, but intimates of the admiral never heard of any great friendship between the two until it was assigned as the reason for the admiral's making his quarters at the McLean house on K street.

Several months ago the admiral was reported to have been engaged to another lady in Washington, but this report seemed to have no basis of fact. Mrs. Hazen, to whom he is now said to be engaged, is a striking widow, wealthy and one of the society leaders of the city. Her sister three years ago, who was then Mrs. Bugher, and very wealthy, married Capt. Nicoll Ludlow, of the navy. It was at one time reported Mr. Herbert, when secretary of the navy, was engaged to her. Mrs. Bugher was not only rich, but very attractive personally. Capt. Ludlow was an officer of striking appearance and, like Admiral Dewey, a widower.

During his residence here the admiral was closely identified with the exclusive circles of society, but not until after the battle of Manila bay were rumors started that he might marry again. The admiral has been a widower now for 20 years.

As admiral of the navy Dewey holds a position scarcely second to any except the president. It is one, too, of leisure and assured service always in Washington, with little more to do than make an annual report to the secretary. At least that is all Admiral Porter did. With a fine house presented to him by the people of the country and a salary approaching $15,000, Admiral Dewey may be regarded as a "catch," and a man that perhaps few widows, no matter how eligible, would decline. He is not quite 62 years of age, fine looking, vigorous and accustomed to polite society.

It is quite certain the admiral will not be let alone by matchmakers and gossips, and his name will be connected in the matrimonial line with someone until he is either married or society abandons hope of getting him married.

BIG HEARTED MEN.

Durham a City That Is Peculiarly Blessed.

The Durham Sun of yesterday contains a half-column editorial on the joy in Trinity church over the generous donation of Gen. Julian S. Carr which freed the church from debt. The same paper also contains an editorial notice of another of Durham's benevolent citizens which we submit:

"Durham is blessed with wealthy and benevolent citizens of a benevolent and generous turn of mind, who are zealous in good works. Mr. Washington Duke's liberality to education is well known, and he is a friend to both races, in that respect. His munificent gifts to Trinity College has made that institution a shining light in this state. He now performs another generous act by giving a piano to the colored graded school of Durham. This liberal act will be appreciated by all who take an interest in that school, and it supplies it with a long felt want. The good that men do after them, and in the good works performed by Mr. Duke there will be blessings in this life, and a sweet perfume to his memory when he shall have passed off the stage of action."

A Senatorial Primary.

The state press is voicing the desires of the people for a primary nomination of the choice of democracy for the United States Senate from North Carolina, and we join in the demand with alacrity. It is the thing to be done, and the democratic party in North Carolina will be made stronger and have a firmer hold upon the people if its party managers see that this selection is referred direct to the individual voter.

It can be done easily and without friction and the man or set of men who oppose the primary are afraid of the people, and of their verdict. Such are not to be trusted and do not deserve the suffrage of those of whom they are afraid.

Let the primary be adopted and a deeper love for democracy will arise in North Carolina, for the people will be satisfied.—Wilson News.

TRUTH CRUSHED SHALL RISE.

One of the pleasantest ebullitions of the recent great Dewey celebrations at New York and Washington is the rebuke to McKinley and his favorites for their unjust treatment of the hero of Santiago. In the people's hearts is where glory lives, not in the decisions of prejudiced and jealous cliques. And when the multitudes gave the bronzed destroyer of Spain's finest fleet the true recognition, when they yelled for him so wildly and loud and long that many thought Dewey had done some grand civil act, then was sweet vengeance Schley's—he was amply repaid for the loss of his commission and for the months of shameful neglect and obscurity he has suffered from the naval bosses because his friends—not he—dared to claim for him the laurels of the last great fight of the American navy.

Admiral Dewey is a gentleman, as well as a brave seaman. He knows Schley's worth and was not ashamed to keep waiting for two minutes worldwide celebrities, while he conversed in tender tones with his friend. The description of the meeting of the two heroes of the two oceans, is very interesting and follows:

The admiral alighted from his carriage, the troopers being lined up at present arms, and ascended to the small platform in the center of the huge one, and there met a distinguished company. The first man whom he espied was Rear Admiral Schley, tall, erect, dignified. It was the first time he had seen Schley since his return home. He fairly leaped for him. Schley, my dear old boy, he cried, I'm delighted. God bless you, old fellow! and how are you? "Fine as silk, admiral," answered Schley. "Here, here, Schley, drop that admiral business. I am plain old George Dewey to you, my boy." Then he drew him aside, and placing an arm about his waist, talked with him earnestly for fully two minutes, unimposed of waiting governor, rear admirals, generals and all others.

The crowd took in the significance of the scene, for the two men were the real heroes of the populace, and they cheered and cheered again.

From the fact that Great Britain and the Transvaal are about to go to war, the following facts concerning the South African Republic are of general interest:

These facts about the Transvaal Republic are gleaned from the Statesman's Year Book for 1898: There are two parliamentary chambers. Bills passed by the second become law only when accepted by the first. Members of both chambers must be 30 years old, possess fixed property and be Protestants. There are two classes of citizens—the first-class burghers and the second-class burghers. Only first-class burghers are eligible to the upper chamber, and only first-class burghers may vote. Both classes of burghers choose the members of the second chamber, and a burgher of either class is eligible to election.

The first-class burghers comprise all male whites resident in the Republic before May 29, 1896, or who took an active part in the war of independence in 1881, the Merinbach war in 1894, the Jameson raid in 1895, the Swazi expedition of 1894, and all other wars against native tribes, and the sons of such persons, upwards of 16 years. Second-class burghers are the naturalized males and their sons from the age of sixteen. Naturalization may be obtained after two years residence, registration, both of allegiance and payment of two pounds, and renders liable the person naturalized to military service. Second-class burghers may become first-class burghers after a naturalization of twelve years by special resolution of the upper chamber. Sons of aliens, though born in the Republic, have no political rights. If they register at 16 they may become second-class burghers at 18, but they cannot become first-class burghers till they are 40, and they must be elected by the upper chamber. The president and the general of the army are elected by the first-class burghers only.

In an address recently delivered by Professor Wilcox, of Cornell University, before the American Social Science Association at Saratoga he showed that crime is very largely on the increase among the negro population of the country. But the most startling feature of his address was the fact shown that the negroes of the northern states are worse by far than the negroes of the southern states. While there are twenty-nine black men in prison in the south out of every 10,000, in the north the proportion is sixty-nine in every 10,000.

It seems as hard for North Carolina to rid itself of John Robinson's circus as it was difficult to shake the small-pox a few months ago.

A dispatch says that in all the rush and hurry and jamming together of the millions of people upon the little island of Manhattan, in the great Dewey celebration, not a single person was hurt. While the waves of frenzied patriotism were sweeping up, down and across the city, when people had not only not room upon which to stand but hardly enough space to breathe in, the fact that such a minimum of danger should have been preserved, is indeed remarkable, and is a credit to the nineteenth century police systems, and other agencies that look after the well being of the populace.

Admiral Dewey would no doubt love to steal awhile away from the maddening crowd to some secluded, sequestered spot of war where he could ruminate on the vicissitudes and tribulations and empty honors of this world, with naught to disturb his contemplation save the soothing roar of war, the gentle crackling of manipulated Gatlings—the soft boom of 13-inch guns playing on the atmosphere.

If Capt. Carter stole a million dollars from the government—and the evidence is pretty conclusive—why do some papers so strenuously deplore his fate? A kid-glove sounder should suffer for his crime as well as a one-galled knave.

WINSTON TOBACCO MARKET.

Business Shows Improvement Over Last Year.

Win ton, N. C., Oct. 2.—The Winston Tobacco Association held its annual meeting this afternoon. Arthur Coleman was elected president for the ensuing year, Robert Gorrell, vice-president, F. A. Coleman, secretary, and M. D. Stockton treasurer. In his annual report the retiring president, W. B. Pollard, said:

"The year just closed has been, taking all things into consideration, a very satisfactory one to every department of the tobacco trade. Our market has sold more pounds of tobacco than ever before in its history and nearly all of it came direct from the hands of the farmers. The manufacturers also passed the high watermark and put into the markets of the world more pounds of Winston plug than before. Farmers seemed satisfied with prices, and in fact the entire machinery of the market in all the various departments moved along last year smoothly and satisfactorily. At our last annual meeting a law was passed requiring our auctioneers to sell not less than a hundred and eighty pills to the hour. I want to say that the results have proven this move a wise one. The receipts of leaf tobacco on the Winston market for the year ending October 1, 1898, were 18,419,031 pounds; for the same period last year, 18,299,190 pounds—being an increase for 1898-99 of 29,841 pounds. The sale of plug by our manufacturers in 1898-99 was 16,630,942 pounds; in 1897-98, 16,041,900 pounds—being an increase in the output of Winston plug for 1898-99 of 589,042 pounds.

My Church.

I could not love thee more, if flesh and blood,
Through saints' pious plot on thy windows
Light streams in Transformed; this new born, gained
In passing, flood
The beauty which all glorious is within
Age lack; and storied thoughts of joy
And pain
Which haunt the old time church.
Just built, in sooth,
Thou standest like a prince in prime
Of youth.
Time waits, nor from thy stones hath
Fleeced a grain;
Arch, molding, pier, belt-course with L'age cur'd,
Seas and carv'd cap, all sound from top to ground.
Thy work's to come! Thou'lt live to hear the world
Slip from its orb, perchance, and the last trump sound.
I love thee, church; thy stones I watched them laid
Into their place, and as I watched I
I pray'd.
R. v. W. Silvester, S. T. D., in the N. Y. Churchman.

The Weaver.

It—doe the loom of life I stand
And watch the busy shuttle go;
The threads I hold within my hand
Make up the filling; strand on strand,
Thy slip my fingers through, and so
This web of mine fills out apace,
While I stand ever in my place.
One time the web is smooth and fine
And colored with a sunny dye;
Again the threads so roughly twine
And weave so darkly line for line
My heart misgives me. Then would I
Fain loose this web—begin anew—
But that, alas! I cannot do.
Some day the web will all be done,
The shuttle quiet in its place,
From out my hold the threads be run;
And friends at setting of the sun
Will come to look upon my face,
And say: "Mistakes she made not few,
Yet wove perchance as best she knew."

REV. S. A. DONAHOE

Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor of M. E. Church, South, Point Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold, which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

James Reed Injured.

Mr. James Reed struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave it any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Mr. Reed is one of the leading merchants of Clay Court House, W. Va. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

SMART AT SPELLING.

A LESSON IN ORTHOGRAPHY THAT WAS DEARLY BOUGHT.

How a Couple of Shrewd Sharpers Won Thousands of Dollars by Working the Dictionary For Game Until They Were Brought to Grief.

"How do you spell 'choir'?" asked a man in the bookstore.
"Why, do you mean—paper or music?" inquired a smart young man who posed as an authority on all topics.
"Music, singing, of course," replied the man in search of orthographical information.
"C-h-o-i-r," responded the smart young man decisively.

"Q-u-i-r-e," chimed in a red bearded man who was busy looking at some books.
"You are referring to paper," said the smart young man, looking sadly at the interrupter. "We were speaking about music."

"I mean music, too," said the red bearded man calmly. "Q-u-i-r-e, to sing in concert."
The smart young man's expression changed from sadness to contempt. "You had better consult your dictionary," he said with a sneer.
"No," said the red bearded man, "I am a little old fashioned, but you will find it correct according to Webster. You will also find it correct according to the Century Dictionary, and if I am not mistaken it is likewise given in the Standard. Your way is all right too."

The smart young man gave a sniff of scorn. "Josh Billings and you should have collaborated on a phonetic spelling book."

"Look here," said the red bearded man, "I'll bet you $5 that Webster's latest spells it 'q-u-i-r-e.'"

"Make it $5," said the smart young man, pulling out a roll.
"No, I don't want to rob you. Get the dictionary."

The money was put up and Webster's International brought out. There it was, "q-u-i-r-e, to sing in concert."

"It didn't mean a verb," said the smart young man, growing white around the ears. "Where is the noun?" They found that, too, although it was marked obsolete. Then the smart young man wilted.

"I won't take your money," said the red bearded man, handing back the bill. "My name is Bell, George T. Bell. I have had educational advantages which you probably never received, and I spent several months learning the difference between a spell and a word. Several years ago I was on the secret service. My partner and I had been on the trail of a pair of sharpers who had a repertoire of 'con' games that would have made the ocean blue and look sick. They were men of far more than ordinary intelligence and had the manners of cultured men of the world. The way we happened to get them was a pure accident."

"My partner and I were going down from St. Louis on a Mississippi river packet. There were about 20 of us in the smoking room talking and trying to pass the time comfortably. Just as a hall came in the hum of conversation a young man seated at a table writing some letters looked up with a troubled air and said, 'Could any of you gentlemen tell me how to spell "choir"?' I am a little puzzled over it."

"What kind of a one do you mean?" asked several.

"Choir, to sing in concert," chirped the young man, wrinkling his brow as if to recall the proper orthography.

"C-h-o-i-r," said a scholarly looking man with glasses on.

"Q-u-i-r-e," sang out a big, well fed old man in the corner.

"C-h-o-i-r," repeated the first man with some emphasis. "I thought every fool knew that."

"That's all right," said the old man off in the corner. "Money talks. I'll bet you $50 that Webster spells it 'q-u-i-r-e' too."

"I'll raise you 50," said the first man, who was a cotton buyer at Memphis.

"All right," said the big old man coolly. Then the others joined in and bet him to a standstill. They put up about $500. Then they got the dictionary, and, as just now, the man who bet on 'q-u-i-r-e' won.

"My partner and I waited till the money had changed hands, and then I said, 'Confound it, you are right. I'll walk up to the young man and said: 'Come with me; I want you. I'll show you how to spell choir. Sit colored the big old man and we waited them down below. You never saw two fellows look quite so cheap. They had cleaned up over $15,000 on that one trick, but they got four years and a half apiece. That is one spelling school I have attended that not every man goes to. That game is one which will catch nine educated men out of ten. You are all right, but you may still have something to learn."

Then the smart young man offered the usual invitation in payment for the information.—Washington Post.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver is inactive you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good alternative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at C. E. Holton's drug store. 50 cents per bottle.

There is no more trying work than the weaver's. Added to the confinement, the heat, and the impure air, there is often an amount of physical exertion which seems incredible. In the manufacture of plush, for example, those who cut the pile have to walk about thirty miles a day. And with every step of that thirty miles they breathe in vitiated air filled with particles of dust, poisonous coloring matter and other substances, irritating to the throat and lungs. It is no wonder that so many mill hands have an obstinate cough or that so many of them die of "lung trouble." It is to operatives whose work makes them peculiarly liable to lung disease that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery comes as a priceless boon. It positively cures deep seated and obstinate coughs, bronchial affections, bleeding of the lungs, and other diseases which if neglected lead to consumption. When I commenced taking your medicine, eighteen months ago, my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Cora L. Henderson of Chambersville, Calvert Co., Md. "At times I could not even walk across the room, without pain in my chest. The doctor who attended me said I had lung trouble and he recommended me to take a little better, than you directed me to take both the "Golden Medical Discovery" and the "Favorite Prescription," which I did. Altogether I have taken eighteen bottles of "Golden Medical Discovery," twelve of the "Favorite Prescription," and five bottles of "Pell's Kidney and Bladder Pills." I am now almost entirely well, and do all my work without any pain whatever. I would not be without these pills if I could formerly work." You can consult Dr. Pierce by letter absolutely without charge. He will carefully consider your condition, and write you fully, giving you familiar, fatherly advice as well as medical direction. Your letter will be held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FELL EXHAUSTED IN CHURCH.

North Carolinian Trying to Reach Home With a Fractured Skull.

Suffering from a fractured skull and exhausted by his tramp from Boston to Philadelphia, John Lippe was found in the North Tenth street Presbyterian church yesterday morning, and was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in a serious condition. The unfortunate man's plight has aroused much sympathy, and it is said that the North Tenth street church will assist him to reach his old home at Jacksonville, N. C.

Lippe has been employed in Canada; an lumber camps until recently, when he was caught in a log jam and received a fractured skull and other injuries. Having but little money, he desired to reach his home in North Carolina, but all of his means were exhausted by the time Boston was reached. He determined to walk from there, and he arrived in Philadelphia yesterday morning, without having had anything to eat for over two days. Lippe stumbled into the church yesterday morning, but succumbed to exhaustion during the service and fell unconscious to the floor. He will be assisted to his old home as soon as he recovers.—Philadelphia Record.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. C. E. Holton will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is every where admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaint and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

Many Thanks.
"I wish to express my thanks to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for having put on the market such a wonderful medicine," says W. W. Massingill, of Beaumont, Tex. There are many thousands of mothers whose children have been saved from attacks of dysentery and cholera infantum who must also feel thankful. It is for sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

THE WHIPPING POST.

Ancient Institution That is Growing in Favor.

Delaware has received much criticism on account of the whipping-post law, which has been in force for some years in that state. On Saturday nine men were publicly whipped at New Castle for the crime of burglary and petty larceny, in the presence of about 50 people. There was no pretense about the punishment. The lash was laid on according to the manner provided by the law. It is easy to say harsh things about punishment in this form and the so-called humanitarians and the super-sensitive have not been sparing in their condemnation. There is, however, another side of the case.

The fact that Delaware has tried this method of punishment, and refuses to repeal the law, is evidence that experience has shown that it is not advisable to abolish the whipping-post. There is nothing more valuable in the study of crime than experience in finding out what method of punishment is best adapted to certain cases. Delaware has considered that applying the cat-o'-nine-tails to thieves is better than locking them in jail for 6 months and feeding them at the state's expense.

There is a law in Baltimore that provides for the punishment of white-slavery by flogging, but such is the feeling here that but three men have been whipped for this, one of the most brutal crimes, in over ten years. The warden of the jail a few days ago emphatically declared that the only way to stop men from beating their wives is to string them up to the whipping-post and flog them. Such punishment does not compare in brutality to that of a strong man beating a weak and defenseless woman. If some of the tender-hearted could see in the police court the condition of some of the women who have been thus maltreated, their views might be different. Crime cannot be suited at long range, and on y through the medium of books. The opinions of warden and other experts, who have to deal directly with criminals, is of vastly more importance than the theories of the super-sensitive and the extreme humanitarians. The punishment of a wrongdoer must be made to fit the crime, if society and the state are to be protected.—Baltimore American.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

J. Spot Taylor and C. Will Joyce, of Danbury, spent the day in the city.

Miss Mamie Carmody, of Oxford, is visiting Miss Whitsett on Arlington street.

Miss Virgie Hill, formerly with D. Bendheim & Sons, is now at Thacker & Brockmann's.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rankin will leave tonight for northern cities to spend several weeks.

"Joe" Dunlap, the terror of Stokes county moonshiners, is taking in the city while attending federal court.

D. B. S. in W. S. F. What is it? For the solution, read the ad of Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees, on first page.

The railroad gates at the South Elm street crossing have been painted white, a color much to be preferred over the old dingy brown.

Lieutenant Dave Gilmer has received orders to leave here on Thursday with what recruits he has for Jefferson Barracks, Mo. There are about twenty volunteers.

The trains from Wilkesboro and Mt. Airy today brought down large crowds from Wilkes and Stokes, and now all that is needed to make federal court look like itself, is here.

The game of football at Guilford College next Saturday between the college team and the Bingham School team from Mebane promises to be an interesting one. It will be the first game of the season in these parts so far as we have been advised.

Mr. Jefferson Reeves, of Asheville, a registered pharmacist of fourteen years experience, and a graduate of the Maryland College of Pharmacy, is now with Jno. B. Fariss, druggist, of this city. Mr. Reeves arrived yesterday and has entered upon his duties.

Don't forget the oyster supper and band concert at the Bazaar warehouse Friday night for the benefit of the Gate City Band. Oysters any style, fruits, etc., will be served. The admission at the door will be ten cents for guests. Ladies admitted free. Seats to accommodate five hundred people.

There was a crowd of negroes at the depot last night making themselves obnoxious in several ways. They were swearing, indulging in loud talk, and one man says their conduct was such as would have demanded their arrest had there been an officer around. Unfortunately, however, we haven't a sufficient number of policemen, and the few we have can't be all over town at the same instant.

One of the colored volunteers went out into the suburbs a day or two ago and feeling his importance as a soldier ordered a man to close up his store, telling him he had a right to do anything he pleased. Lieutenant Gilmer heard of it and lined his men up and delivered a rigid lecture on the rules of army life and told them how to behave themselves. There will probably be no more trouble.

SOME SHOE BEAUTIES.

The Carolina Shoe Company Displays a Fine Line.
A Telegram man, who has been solicited about Mr. S. B. Norris in his affliction with boils, called at his place of business today and found him able to be up and eager to show the extra fine lines of shoes for both men and women which he carries in stock.

We were shown the handsome goods in women's shoes that it has been our pleasure to see. The reputation of the Laird, Schober & Co., Krippendorff, Dittman Co., and Hayes, Partridge & Co., is established, and those who have worn their shoes are ready to affirm their merits.

For men there were the handsome and substantial Banister's, Turner's and Stacy Adams' in fine grades, and in medium grades Crosses and Wright's. But his not our business to attempt a description of the immense stock. Go there and see for yourself. Norris and his polite clerks will take pleasure in waiting on you.

THE BARLOW MINSTRELS.

Played Last Night to a Large Audience at the Academy.
In striking and pleasing contrast to the recent bad performance of the "Great" Southern Minstrels in this city was that of the famous Barlow Minstrels last night. The whole performance was full of snap and life. The jokes were, for the most part, new and the audience was caught when the curtain rose and held until it went down on the close.

Nearly every man in the troop is an artist. The singing was really fine, all the numbers receiving hearty encores, but especially the good was the bass solo, "Asleep in the Deep," by Mr. Harvey Briggs. This aggregation would do well here on a return engagement.

Minstrel Rehearsal Tonight.
All of the orchestra and soloists are urgently requested to be present at the rehearsal tonight. It is very important that everyone be on hand, as the date is drawing near. Meet J. W. Tillinghast at his school of music, promptly at 8 o'clock.

Wanted.

About 20 young ladies to make overalls and pants. Apply at factory on Buchanan street from 6:15 to 6:45 p. m. 02-wk Hunter Mfg. Co.
There is poetry in flowers, but the versemakers fight shy of the crysanthemum.
The Thomas G. Plant line of ladies' shoes, made in Boston, and the Cahill line, made in Cincinnati, are among the very best in the land—up-to-date in style, good fitters and having excellent wearing qualities. We sell both lines at $2.50, and fully guarantee every pair sold.

Thacker & Brockmann, Phone 172.

A CHAT WITH GENERAL RANSOM.

The Ex-Senator Was in Greensboro This Morning.

There are few men living in the state today who have been as prominent and conspicuous in North Carolina affairs as ex-United States Senator Matt W. Ransom. He was at the depot here this morning for the eastbound train enroute to his home from Blowing Rock, where he went to escort Mrs. Ransom over to Hickory. As usual, he was in the midst of a group of men who had congregated about him and he had something to say that interested all of them.

To the Telegram man he would say: "This is not for publication." It is related of him of old that no newspaper man has ever been able to lure him into what might properly be termed an interview. He is fond of newspaper men, but says they do not always report him correctly. Gen. Ransom is 73 years old, but does not look it. He is well preserved in spite of the hard campaigning he has done in former years. No man living has canvassed the state as extensively and as many times as he.

In speaking of the growth and development of counties, towns and cities he said he could speak from a personal knowledge and that no county in the state was ahead of Guilford in resources, good farms and good people. He was a so very gracious in his opinion of Greensboro, and expressed delight at the many and splendid evidences of prosperity here.

His acquaintance with the people of the state and remembrance of their names, where they live, etc., is really most remarkable. The pleasant conversation was interrupted by the train pulling out. A most polished, genial and entertaining man is General Ransom.

THE NORMAL OPENS THURSDAY.

Young Ladies Arriving on Every Train for the Opening.

President McIver is about the busiest man in town this week. The State Normal and Industrial college opens on Thursday and the young ladies are already coming in. There were a number on 38 at noon today. In addition to these, there were about twenty already here, who will have charge of the dining room. Twenty more will have charge of the ironing department on the laundry.

Dr. McIver remarked to a reporter that he would meet every passenger train arriving in this city between now and tomorrow night Thursday morning. We thought of his job and decided that he will be kept busy and won't get much sleep. There are 28 scheduled passenger trains a day and to keep it up for two days will require hard work. But the doctor will do it. He says there will be more girls, probably, at the opening than they have ever had.

The Burlesquers.

On tomorrow night, October 4, Fred Rider's New Night Owl Burlesque Company will appear at the Academy of Music for one night only. This is one of the largest organizations of its kind on the road. The company carries twenty-two people, among whom are some of the foremost comedians and comedettes. The company is in the hands of the well-known comedians, Gus Seville, Ted Evans and William Gilmore.

The opening burlesque is the "Night Owl's Club at Newport," introducing the entire company, with a strong cast, supported by a chorus of twelve beautiful women. The olio introduces Evans and Melrose, in their Irish comic dramatic sketch; Miss Ida Howell, the dashing comedienne; Seville and Young, in their original creation, "A Tramp's Reception," and the funny pair, Gilmore and Boshell, in the laughable farce, "The Flat Uppers," with an host of other specialties, too numerous to mention, closing the evening's performance with the funny burlesque, "The Naughty Man," introducing the entire company in medleys, songs and dances. Reserved seats on sale at Fariss' drug store.

Sale of Valuable Lots.

On next Tuesday afternoon, the 10th inst., at 3 o'clock,

We will sell at public auction about 40 large and beautifully shaded lots opposite the State Normal School, on the tract known as the Gregory land, on the following terms:
One-third cash, one-third in six months and one-third in twelve months, with interest on the deferred payments at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

This is positively the last chance to secure lots beautifully shaded with nice oak trees within five minutes walk of the Normal School.
The sale will be conducted just as all our former sales have been—that is, no by-bidding and every lot offered to be sold, no matter what it brings.

If you fail to attend this sale you will regret it, as we mean to sell you lots at your own prices.
